EARTHQUAKES.

Casamicciola Converted into one Vast Cemetery.

Magnitude of the Awful Horror—Four Thousand Dead—Relief Measures — Other Quakes — Vesuvius Violent.

NAPLES, Aug. 1.—The latest estimate places the number of deaths at between 4000 and 5000. As it would be impossible to recover and bury all the bodies, the general Minister of Public Works has ordered that in view of the horrible exhalations from the decomposing remains, unrecovered corpses be left where they lie and liquid lime be poured over the ruins made by the earthquake. Casamicciola will thus be converted into a vast cemetery.

Relief Measures.

VIENNA, August 1.—The municipality has voted a large sum of money to the relief of the earthquake sufferers in Ischia.

Earthquakes in France and Germany.

LONDON, August 1.—Shocks of earthquake were felt at Wiesbaden, Marseilles and Messageries.

And in Oporto.

OPORTO, August 1.—An earthquake was felt here to-day and caused great alarm.

Vesuvius Belching Lava.

NAPLES, August 1.—Mount Vesuvius is in a state of eruption. The lava is descending fast from the crater in the direction of the town of Torre del Greco, at the southwest.

HOW CAREY WAS KILLED.

Shot Three Times by a California "Digger."

CAPE TOWN, July 31.—O'Donnell was examined before a Port Elizabeth magistrate to-day on a charge of murder for killing James Carey, the informer. According to the evidence given Carey and O'Donnell had been drinking in the second-class cabin just before the murder. When the steamer was half way between Sable Bay and Algoa Bay, O'Donnell suddenly shot Carey in the neck with a revolver. Carey staggered away and O'Donnell followed and shot him twice in the back. Carey died in twenty minutes. O'Donnell said he was a California digger; that he had lost largely in silver mines; that he was unaware of Carey's identity until he saw it stated in the papers who Power was. He then determined to kill him.

PACIFIC COAST NEWS.

Status of the Strike from the Brotherhood's Standpoint.

CHICAGO, August 1.—Master Workman Morris intimates that the Brotherhood will probably be compelled to order out the members working for the railroads very soon. He denies the statement that fifteen men returned to work in New York yesterday. He says that only twenty-five have returned over the entire country since the inauguration of the strike.

A Corner in Coke.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Aug. 1.—A syndicate, composed of prominent New York capitalists, including W. K. Vanderbilt, have formed for the purpose of obtaining control of the coke production in the Connellsville regions. Their object is to establish an arbitrary selling rate for coke and also to divert the business of the region to the Vanderbilt lines. A large quantity of valuable coke property has already been secured.

A Victim of the Floods.

CINCINNATI, July 31.—Workmen while digging ground in the vicinity of the Cincinnati Southern Railway depot yesterday morning, discovered the body of young Weber, who was lost last February at the time the flood swept away a portion of the depot.

The Yavapai Journal says: Wm. R. Morgan, one of the owners of the Pine Spring mine, in Turkey creek district, arrived in Prescott Saturday last, by McInernay's stage. The men in the mine are now down thirty feet, at which depth the ledge is strong and rich. The foot wall is perfect, but the hanging wall is a little faulty. That is, it is shelly and contains seams of rich ore. It may be that beyond is more vein matter. There are now between 200 and 240 sacks of high grade ore ready for shipment or a purchaser.

Calvin Foster died on the Stockton steamer on Friday night.

J. E. Palmer was knocked down and robbed at Tombstone, A. T., on Friday night.

CERTIFICATE

.....OF.....

Water Analysis.

SAN FRANCISCO, September 18, 1882.

For Mr. Victor Beaudry, Los Angeles:

I have carefully analyzed the sample of water marked as under—and find the following to be the proportions in every 100 parts:

[Mark of sample, Los Angeles.]

Solid residue, 29.16 grains per United States gallon.

Chlorine, 2.39 grains per United States gallon.

Ammonia (free and combined), .085 milligram per litre.

Albuminoid ammonia, .12 milligram per litre.

The water does not indicate the presence of any injurious ingredient in abnormal quantities, and is a good quality of water for dietetic purposes. It is free from any sewage contamination.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS PRICE, M. D.

NOTICE.

To whom I may concern:

I take pleasure to lay before the public the above certificate of analysis of the water from the

NOBODY CAN DENY.

Consumers can depend upon the NEW ENGLAND BAKING POWDER as being exactly as represented. It is Cream of Tartar and Bicarbonate of Soda of perfect purity, scientifically combined; NOTHING ELSE.

The price of the NEW ENGLAND BAKING POWDER justifies the use of the very best materials. Consumers pay a fair price for the best and get it.

It is self-evident that Baking Powders represented to be composed of the same materials as the NEW ENGLAND, and which are sold to dealers at less than the materials themselves are worth, cannot be pure.

The large demand for NEW ENGLAND BAKING POWDER, and consequent failing off in sales of unlicensed and inferior powders, has developed a spitefulness on the part of some manufacturers and dealers. Finding that the quality of the NEW ENGLAND cannot be successfully attacked, new brands and close imitations, represented to be as good, are put on the market. With these they endeavor to tempt dealers with low prices, and thus impose on consumers.

See that the name NEWTON BROS. & Co. is on every can. jy1-2taw-3m

THURSDAY, AUGUST 2, 1883.

THE OUTLOOK.

The rapidity of growth in Los Angeles is astonishing, even to her own people. A few weeks even make marked changes in the newer localities. New houses dot the landscape in every direction, and streets that a few months ago were hardly more than outlined now show numerous and handsome residences. New trees have been planted, and fresh gardens and hedges; the places of business are multiplying; new industries are organized; capital is seeking investment, and everything speaks of prosperity and growth. The somewhat small amount of rainfall the past season does not seem to have affected the material development of this region. Although our harvests are not as abundant as was anticipated in the early spring, still we have enough and o spare. In no department of business or labor is there a sufficient lack to create depression. California has certainly been favored beyond most other sections of the country, and beyond most other lands, in her exemption from appalling calamities and elemental disturbances. And at present no State in the Union is more prosperous, and none offers so many attractions to the home-seeker as this great Empire State of the Pacific.

CAPT. WEBB's foolhardy enterprise, through which he lost his life, meets with the general condemnation which it deserved. It is time that public sentiment should be sufficiently pronounced to prevent men, for the sake of a little cheap notoriety, from incurring such risks, and placing themselves in positions of imminent peril. Human life is held too lightly in this age of reckless daring. Men are too apt to accept the sophistry that their lives are their own, and that nobody has any right to interfere if they are willing to risk them in any foolhardy enterprise that it may please their fancy to undertake. But this is a grand mistake. To foolishly throw away our own lives is just as criminal as to take the life that belongs to another. Capt. Webb was a brave man and an expert swimmer, but thus was no excuse for his flinging himself into the jaws of death which yawned for him in the awful whirlpool at Niagara. It was only an unusual form of suicide. Had he succeeded no good could have resulted from the terrible experiment; as he has perished, the only good that can be hoped for is that no other reckless adventurer for the sake of gain or fame will thus criminally imperil his life, which, however worthless it may be, he has no right to throw away.

IT would be a nice thing if, during the coming visit of the Knights Templar to this State, California would follow the noteworthy example set by the people of Denver, in receiving visitors to their Exposition. Such arrangements were perfected as allowed of no extortionate charges being made, and to the visitors the utmost courtesy has been accorded. Denver is wise beyond most cities, and her guests will depart with no unpleasant recollections of greed and extortion, such as are always a sure bar to the desire for a second coming. California is a rich and prosperous State, and the attractions which she has to offer the tourist and the immigrant should not be one shadowed by unjust charges or the wresting of unwilling sums from the purses of visitors.

THE negroes of the South are learning the vices of the white man. Intemperance is said to be a growing evil among them, producing the most deplorable results. Low groggeries are to be found at most of the cross-roads, and the result is idleness and the debauchery of the black man, and suffering and destitution in the families. No wonder that Southern sentiment is aroused in favor of high license as a means of suppressing the numerous low drinking houses, where the lower classes of population, black and white alike, congregate, and all the evils growing out of intemperance are sown and nurtured.

THE amount of proselyting that is done by the Mormon Church is simply astonishing. They penetrate into every land and teach their pernicious doctrines to the poor and ignorant. The Mormon elders have lately extended their missionary work to Iceland, and twenty new converts have been thawed out of that frozen region and are now on their way to swell the number of the faithful at Salt Lake. The devil never takes his summer vacation with the churches.

Joaquin Murietta's widow has organized a band of 300 Mexican outlaws at the head of Cantone Creek in Fresno county. They are regularly sworn in, and become a formidable camp.

SAVE THE SCHOOLS.

The discussion of the public school question is growing lively, and our department of "Letters from the People" bristles with sharp points. More shots coming. But the discussion is hardly necessary, after all. The public school system of the United States is so firmly fixed in the hearts of the people that they will fight before they will give it up to the clamors of creed or craft, priest or Pope.

Mr. Z. Montgomery's proposition that education makes crime will win few converts. The public schools are not anti-parental unless careless and indifferent parents permit them to become so, and even then their training is better than no training at all, or the training of religious proselyters. The church, the faction, or the party that dares attempt the overthrow of our public school system will arouse such a storm of indignation as the American Union never knew, save when the attempt was made to commit that still greater crime, the destruction of the Union itself.

THE amount of slush dished up under the head of society news, by some of the metropolitan journals of the country, is simply sickening in the extreme. The Washington Post has been raving over "little Miss Arthur," who, it asserts, "has the matured manner of the world about her, and goes out shopping with all the dignity of the State carriage and livery, and sits back like a little queen, and gives her address to the footman." According to our way of thinking, "little Miss Arthur" is not half as attractive in this light as she would be were she a genuine American "girly-girl."

THE Lout of the Sand Lot does show a little sound sense sometimes. A moon-eyed Celestial recently challenged him to fight a duel, but Denis declined to accept the challenge on the ground that they did not occupy equal social positions. Denis was correct in his conclusions, for it was an honest and respectable Chinaman who sent him the challenge.

THERE have been numerous forest fires wantonly set, and a vast amount of valuable timber has, as the result, been destroyed in various parts of the State. Such acts of vandalism cannot be too severely reprobated, and no one found guilty of such criminal wantonness should be permitted to escape without punishment.

DR. DANIEL ASBURY, of North Carolina, is pluming his pinions for a public aerial ascension and sail. The two canvas wings of his flying machine stretch thirty feet broad from tip to tip, and all the man-bird has to do to regulate his flight is to work a pedal like that on a sewing-machine.

THE Marysville Appeal, in referring to the Governor's promise to convene the Legislature in response to a petition of two-thirds of the members, says that it is a reversal of the usual custom, being an effort on the part of the Governor to get the Legislature to convene him.

Benicia's New Water Power.

New Era, July 28th.]

The work of boring wells for the Benicia Water Company was completed early in the week, and on Thursday the new pump and boiler were placed in position, and the wells tested. The wells, seven in number, are located just above the willow grove, on the land of Mr. A. Goodyear, and near the ranch of J. M. Williams. The wells have been tested, and it is estimated that each well will furnish forty gallons per minute, making a total for all of about 200,000 gallons per day. The towns all around us are complaining of the scarcity of water, and at Vallejo the supply had almost given out. For some time past the people have suffered on account of being to a certain extent deprived of that very necessary article, but we are now assured of a bountiful supply, a fact for which all will be thankful.

Scene of the Disaster.

Ischia is an island in the Mediterranean, belonging to Naples, eight miles southwest of Cape Miseno, from which it is separated by a channel six miles across. It is seven miles long and four miles broad; area twenty-six miles. Near its center is Mount San Nicolo, or Epomo, from which the surface gradually slopes in all directions toward the sea. The soil is very fertile, producing great quantities of superior wine, with figs, corn and game. Sulphur is abundant, and the mineral springs at Casamacciola are annually resorted to by summer visitors. Population, 24,000; principal town, Ischia, on its northeast coast. The town of Casamacciola contained some 4000 or 4500 inhabitants.

A San Francisco Lady Injured.

Chronicle, July 30.]

Among the injured in the recent earthquake at Ischia was Miss Van Alen, daughter of William K. Van Alen, the well-known real estate dealer of this city. Mr. Van Alen received a cablegram from the British Consul at Naples last night stating that his daughter was seriously but not fatally injured, her leg being broken. Mr. Van Alen stated to a Chronicle reporter who called upon him last evening, that Miss Van Alen was visiting the island with friends. She has been on the Continent for the past seven years, spending much of her time at Rome, Naples and other neighboring places.

A Church Infested with Bedbugs.

A sensation has been created at La Sour, in Minnesota, by the discovery that the Presbyterian church in that place was literally alive with bedbugs. The cushioned seats, especially, and even the walls, were found to be full of them, and the interior of the building is in such condition that it has been found necessary to remove all the seats and furniture and to suspend service until the pests can be exterminated.

A Friend Unrecognized.

If the housekeeper only knew it, the little centipede that runs for its life is one of her best friends. It eats the larvæ of moths, finding them where she would never see them, the eggs of roaches and of other troublesome insects. It does not sting nor bite, and she who kills it does herself an injury.

More Honored in the Breach than in the Observance.

Sacramento Bee.]

"There must and shall be a change," howl the Democratic press. Perhaps there may and perhaps there may not. Bad as things may be, our esteemed cotemporaries should remember that jumping from the frying-pan into the fire is an act more honored in the breach than in the observance.

Fair Clap-trap.

New Mexican Review.]

"Turn the rascals out" is the prevailing Democratic election cry, and the only one on which the party is united. It makes very fair clap-trap on the stump, but it won't amount to a row of pins at the ballot-box.

For the Other Side.

The New York Tribune says that the impression seems to be gaining ground in Ohio that Judge Hoadly is a most capital campaign speaker—for the other side.

The Worm Turns.

The Modern Age for July.]

From the sterner sex and from the sterner members of her own sex, poor defenseless woman has received an enormous amount of reviling for her corsets, her high heels, her bustles, her tight shoes, and the thousand and one other things which she imagines make her more charming. All this she has endured up to the present, and with saintly patience, but, at last, even the worm brought to bay will turn and rend his accusers. And the peculiar thing about it is that she seems to have some reason on her side. She tells her critics to remove first the beam from their own eyes, and then they will be better qualified to judge of the size of the mote which is obscuring their sisters' vision. Her first point of attack is the starched shirt front. This we surrender at once. And so on until we are reduced almost to the condition which Eve succeeded in making it improper for Adam to appear in on the day when that wretched couple indulged too unrestrainedly in a vegetarian diet. Then it was that woman first provoked the dress discussion, and it has remained with her a fruitful topic ever since. Up to that time there was no question as to what was and what was not "rational" dress. But Eve listened to the Worth of her day, and here we are, after centuries of evolution, each sex wearing a fashion of fig leaf which the other knows to be ridiculous, and yet are no nearer a solution of the vexed problem than were our unworthy progenitors on that November afternoon when they were evicted from the Garden of Eden. Is there no compromise possible? If we yield points on our side, will our daughters, wives and sisters meet us half way? Will the abandonment of the high hat purchase abstinence from the flower and feather-trimmed monstrosities which furnish the milliners a luxurious existence? Will the giving up of starched collars, cuffs and shirt fronts gain the abolition of an equal number of starched skirts and lace-trimmed petticoats? Will our return to sandals mean death to French heels? Will our absolute desertion of barbers secure temperance in the use of rice-powder and arsenical solutions? When these questions are answered in the affirmative we will give in our allegiance to the new order of things, but until they are we shall cling manfully to the right to encase our bodies in stiffened linen and torture ourselves in any other way we may see fit.

Logan's Levee.

Denver Tribune.]

At the meeting of the Grand Army of the Republic in Denver on Wednesday, and directly after the close of the ceremonies at the camp, and while General Logan was yet on the platform, he was besieged by hundreds of veterans who invaded the stand and surrounded him. Those who were the closest grasped his hand, while those on the edges could only look with affectionate interest, eyeing enviously those near the General's person. For every one the commander had a kind greeting and he seemed to enjoy the situation.

"Ah, General," said a gray-haired old man, with tears in his eyes; "I haven't seen you since we were in Georgia together; I am so glad to meet you. I left that at Dallas," he said sorrowfully, shaking an armless sleeve.

"Oh, I remember you. You're Jo, who was shot down on duty while carrying dispatches," said the general; "why, old man, I am really glad to see you."

The general's words were too deep to be commonplace. His expressive face told how the old man interested him. As Jo stood there, the object of general interest, with his losing hand in the firm, cordial grasp of his old commander, the tears coursed down his cheek. Too full for utterance, he could only return the warm clasp. As he left, the general shook his head sorrowfully, and remarked: "It's been a long time since I saw him last. He was a most faithful soldier. We left him for dead in the trenches."

Just then a cheer went up from the crowd, coupling his name with the next Presidency.

"You are nominated," said Mayor Routt, amid a general laugh, in which the General joined.

"Well, they might do worse," was the reply; "it is possible to do anything in a crowd, you know."

The horses arrived just then. Vaulting into the saddle, he was soon away at the head of his staff, going in the direction of the headquarters.

Why not, Indeed?

Chicago Herald.]

In his letter to "My Dear Blackburn," Mr. Dorsey threatens to "shove the branding iron of justice across the slick-varnished table of infamy." Why not drag the mud-smeared mailbag of contract across the milky route of the flickering star while he is at it?

The Extra Session.

The Merced Star says regarding the call for an extra session of the Legislature: "The real purpose of all this nonsense is to place Terry, Marshall and Foote in important official positions, and to secure these worthies and their allies the control of the State Government."

The Germans are remarkable for practical economy and benevolence. Hitherto they have accomplished great things by collecting cigar-tips and disposing of them for the benefit of poor children. Now comes a suggestion from the Saxon Industrial Society concerning the collection of cast-off steel pens, to be disposed of for the benefit of workingmen's children by procuring them instruction of various kinds. Steel pens are, as we all know, made of the very best steel, which suffers little by use. Instead of throwing away old pens, these might be preserved and gathered and many millions of marks saved by converting them into watch springs, fine knives, etc. Steel filings are carefully saved—why not steel pens, which represent a much greater value? If for nothing else, they might be profitably used in the manufacture of ink.

Ex-Senator David Davis, of Illinois, enjoys one decided advantage over the other Presidential possibilities. He is named as the possible candidate of each of the parties. But probably the old adage about slipping between two stools will be illustrated in his case.

Longfellow said: "In this world a man must be either anvil or hammer." Longfellow was wrong, however. Lots of men are neither the active hammer nor the sturdy anvil; they are nothing but bellows.—[Philadelphia News.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

[This is the TIMES-MIRROR'S Public Forum upon which all who have anything pertinent timely and interesting to say, on topics of current interest, may stand and give their independent opinions to the people; the writers being responsible for their own sentiments and statements. Correspondents are politely urged to be clear, concise, and to the point; to write plainly, and upon one side of the sheet only.]

Zach Montgomery Assails the People's School System.

To the Editor of the Times—SIR: I see by your issue of this morning that a Mr. J. W. Redway, under the caption of "Zach Montgomery and his Public School Heresies," makes certain statements and propounds certain questions touching my charge against the public school system as a cause of crime, which seem to demand an answer. In making this answer I shall be as brief as possible, knowing the crowded condition of your columns.

Mr. Redway admits the alleged amount of crime in the six original public school States, but asks what evidence have I "that this great percentage of crime is due to the anti-parental system of education."

The first evidence that I shall offer is the fact that crime has increased in almost the exact ratio with the increase of expenditures for public school purposes. For example, in 1850 the State of Maine was only expending for public school purposes $313,818, and her prison report for 1851 shows only eighty-seven convicts in prison; but in order to prevent crime, as it was claimed, she went on increasing her expenditures for public schools, until, in 1878, with an increase of only 14 per cent. of population, she was lavishing on her public schools $1,115,304, and in 1880 she had a corresponding crop of convicts, numbering 276.

In 1850 Connecticut, with a native population of 331,560, expended on her public schools but $195,931, and her native convicts numbered 244; but ten years later, in 1860, with 379,450 native population, she expended $311,545 on her public schools, and had raised her native crime list from 244 to 349, a corresponding increase of crime along with the increase of public school expenditures we find to have taken place in Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Vermont and New Hampshire. So likewise in 1860 Maryland expended on her public schools but $205,000, and had only one native white criminal to every 5276; but ten years later, in order to prevent crime, she was expending for public school purposes $1,146,057, and had one native white criminal for every 1717 native whites.

Mr. Redway makes the very singular mistake of classifying Tennessee, Alabama and Louisiana as parental school States in 1860, and then triumphantly points to their several lists of criminals in that year as follows, to wit:

Tennessee, one criminal to every 1877; Alabama, one criminal to every 2823; Louisiana, one criminal to every 816.

But, had our worthy friend looked into the facts a little more closely, he would have found that in 1859 Tennessee was expending on her public schools $230,430.27; that in 1855, Alabama had 1098 anti-parental common schools, educating 40,283 children, which was considerably more than half of all the children in the State; and as for Louisiana, she was the very hub of Southern anti-parental education. As early as 1850 Louisiana had 664 of these anti-parental schools, with 822 teachers and 25,046 scholars, with an annual income of $349,672 for the running of these incubators of crime, and in 1859 this sum had swollen to $899,500. This, too, was in a State where, in 1860 the entire white population was only 293,247 inhabitants. No wonder, then, that her crime list stood one to every 816 inhabitants.

As to the States of Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Ohio and Missouri it is true that in all these States the anti-parental system had been introduced and its influence was beginning to be felt in 1860; but it was not to be expected that, while yet in their infancy, they would rival in crime those States where the same pernicious system had been in force over two hundred years.

It is but too true, however, that under the operations of vastly increased expenditures for public school purposes all these last named States made fearful strides in crime during the ten years from 1860 to 1870. Thus, for example, in 1860 Indiana had but 1 native white criminal to every 9552 inhabitants, but ten years later she had 1 to every 2191 inhabitants. In 1860 Iowa had but 1 criminal in every 9325 inhabitants, and only ten years later she had 1 to every 3602. In 1860 Kansas had but 1 native white criminal to every 4296, but ten years later she had 1 to every 1473. In 1860 Ohio had but 1 criminal to every 7589, and ten years later she had 1 to every 2499; and Missouri, that in 1860 had but 1 criminal to every 5461, in 1870 had one to every 1546.

So that by increasing the number of her criminals in the same ratio, it will not take long for the new States to outstrip the old ones.

"But," says Mr. Redway, "how do we know but that it is the eating of codfish that causes this greater increase of crime in some localities than in others?"

Now this is truly a novel idea to come from a friend of the common school system. Just as if he really believed that the kind of education a child receives has no more to do with its tendency to vice or virtue than the kind of food it eats. Does anybody deny that "'Tis education forms the common mind," and that, "As the twig is bent the tree's inclined?" Or does any one call in question the saying of the wise man, "Bring up a child in the way he should go, when he is old he will not depart from it?"

Have not the friends of the public school system been for centuries incessantly arguing that it was the want of a public school education that made criminals? And are we now to be told that after all, perhaps it is only a question of "codfish?"

Dr. Wayland in his Elements of Moral Science, says: "The relaxation of parental authority has always been found one of the surest indications of the decline of social order, and the unfailing precursor of public turbulence and anarchy."

And Dr. Joseph LeConte, of California's State University, says: "Compulsory State education certainly strikes at the integrity of the family, for it makes children the wards of the State."

Mr. John Swett, when State Superintendent, said (see reports for 1864-5): "The child should be taught to consider his instructor in many respects superior to the parent in point of authority."

Did time and space permit, it would be easy to show by thousands of illustrations how utterly prostrated is parental authority while the child is under public school jurisdiction.

Moreover, bad companionship, which parents are powerless to guard against in the public schools, and, also, the false notions with reference to manual labor which children, as a rule, imbibe in these schools, all tend to demoralization and crime.

But having said so much to the people of Los Angeles orally on this subject during the last few days, I shall not for the present presume to trespass further on your columns.

Respectfully,
ZACH. MONTGOMERY.

[Correspondents on this subject (and others) are cautioned to be economical in the use of space, which is limited in the TIMES. A multitude of words and figures do not necessarily constitute argument or exhibit ability.—ED. TIMES.]

A Rhetorical Dude.

To the Editor of the Times—SIR: In speaking of dudes, is not Mr. Zach Montgomery a species of that genus in a rhetorical and gesticulatory form? Does he not go through his antics to gain the good will of the powers that be which are centered in the old gentleman at Rome? Will he not get a free pass to glory through the black-robed gentleman's intercession? I merely ask the question. But this much I do say, Mr. Editor, let the key-stone of our republican institutions once be destroyed, (our free school being the key-stone), and the Republic is doomed. What would follow the abolition of the free schools in this country? Roman Catholic ones, by a large majority, with every inducement to parents to send their children to them for their mental and moral food! We all know, if not densely ignorant, that the Roman Catholics are the best educators. We all know that when at the numerous hangings of criminals, (murderers), the priest is not needed—not by a large majority. How long will it be before Mr. Z. M. escorts his Holiness from his now doubtfully secure place of residence to this country, where power and influence await him? On the abolition of free schools, thump for thump, say I, when our liberties are threatened!

HENRY ST CLAIR.
Main St., Los Angeles, Aug. 1, 1883

California Producers in the Toils With Eastern Competition.

To the Editor of the Times—SIR: When, through the TIMES of Tuesday, we spoke of the fact of our Los Angeles producers of potatoes being prevented, by Kansas competition, from selling to advantage in the markets of New Mexico and Colorado, we were fully aware of the truth of our assertion, and, instead of endeavoring to "injure our farmers on the potato question," we were simply giving a reason for a cause. Now, the writer of this knows exactly what he is talking about, when he declares that California cannot hope to compete successfully with Kansas, so long as the present monopoly and discriminating freight rates remain the programme of the A. T. & S. F. Railroad Company. The potatoes of this section are admitted to be the finest in quality that enter New Mexico or Colorado. Of that there can be no dispute, but, since it is a fact that the Southern Pacific charge 60 cents per 100 pounds to Deming, a distance of 716 miles, the A. T. & S. F. charge $1.25 from Deming to Las Vegas, only 363 miles. Now the distance from Kansas City to Las Vegas is 786 miles, with a freight rate of 90 cents per 100 pounds; but, if you take Dodge City, which is the Kansas central shipping point, the freight is proportionately lower, Dodge City being 417 miles from Las Vegas; and this enormous disparity of figures, of course, is accounted for by the fact that the A. T. & S. F. R. R. is actually entirely controlled by Boston and other eastern capitalists, who are to a man manufacturers of all kinds of articles which float this market, and all the outlying districts between this coast and the range of the Mississippi river. And now, Colonel, with the natural continental water divide, so is it made the objective point to stem the tide of Californian produce, and we cannot shut our eyes to these stubborn facts. Although Californian potatoes are of more intrinsic value, as per quality, than the watery, waxy potatoes of Kansas, or even the enormous quantities grown in the Stonewall valley underlying the Sangre de Christo range, it is not quality, but quantity, unfortunately, that succeeds in realizing the largest profits. In these outlying districts a potato, on the boarding-house tables, regardless of its quality, is still a potato, and pays the boarding-house keeper better.

Las Vegas, for all New Mexico, Southern Colorado, and the Panhandle of Texas, is an objective shipping point for all produce, and consequently it is held by the A. T. & S. F. R. R. Co. for the sole benefit of her stockholders.

And now comes the severe part of the lesson, which must be learnt by the people of this coast. San Francisco has foolishly ignored it; it remains to be seen whether Los Angeles will continue so to do—whether she will continue, as at present, to ship all her raw produce, in the shape of hides, skins, wool &c., to Boston and Buffalo, to be made into shoes and clothing and reshipped here with an enormous double rate of freight attached; and the worst part is, that the profits are returned there, and form the eastern floating capital stock, which is the life's blood of a common weal. Without it, the prosperity of our commercial enterprises do materially depreciate.

The fuel problem is solved, there can now be no excuse. We have fuel in abundance in the shape of oil for generating motive power, and the overcrowded population of our manufacturing eastern cities are longing for an opportunity to throw their surplus labor into a market that should commence right here at Los Angeles.

Bear in mind, these railway freight monopoly companies do employ all the agencies in their power, (including the majority of the newspaper editors of the Western and interior districts which their lines traverse, whose eyes are filled with the "dust" of patronage, in the shape, of a sly "tip," or a railway "pass") to discountenance and discourage as much as possible any attempt to manufacture or produce anything which may or does affect eastern competition.

These are matters which our Board of Trade will do well to study, and as much as possible prevent, in whatever shape it may be found, either in monopoly or unfair discrimination, and on the other hand increase and foster every desire and determination apparent amongst the people to manufacture. We have a home market which eastern cities have not; they are materially depending upon us.

The Herald may strain at a gnat of advice—perhaps it will more willingly swallow a camel of facts.

San Francisco Produce Market.

Revised Daily for the Times.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 31.

FLOUR—The week opens on a lively trade. We quote as follows: Best city extra, $5@5 50; medium grades, $4@4 50; shipping superfine, $3 75@4 ₱ bbl.

WHEAT—Market not active. Liverpool advices report an easier feeling at that center this morning, and as a consequence the apathy of local buyers is still more pronounced. Shipping grades are quotable at $1 02½@1 05 ₱ ctl, with trading almost nominal. Choice milling will not bring over $1 07½ ₱ ctl.

BARLEY—Last week's closing figures are only fairly maintained. While giving the range for spot lots of No. 1 feed at 92½@93c ₱ ctl, it is but just to remark that the higher figure is but seldom obtained, and many dealers claim that 93½c is the top of the market. Good brewing can be had within a range of $1 20@1 22½, with poor lots selling down to $1 12½.

BRAN—Until receipts become more free, the market is expected to remain firm at $17 ₱ ton.

GROUND BARLEY—Keeps steady at old rates. Quotable at $23@24 ₱ ton.

CORN—Quiet. Cuba Yellow is quotable at $1 65; Nebraska mixed off ring at $1 47½ ₱ ctl.

CRACKED CORN—Inquiry not pressing. Quotable at $35 ₱ ton.

HAY—Prices steady, with occasional sales in an advance. We quote as follows: Alfalfa, $6@10; Wheat, $12@13 50; Wild Oat, $11@13; Barley, $8@11; Mixed, $8@10 ₱ ton.

HOPS—Dull and inactive. Market nominally quotable at 17½@25c ₱ lb.

CORNMEAL—Local millers quote feed at $35 50 to $36 50; fine kinds for the table, in large and small packages, 3c ₱ lb.

POTATOES—In good supply. Wharf rates range from 90@$1 ₱ ctl.

ONIONS—Are still plentiful and cheap. Quotable at 40@50c for Red, and 60 to 70c ₱ ctl for Silverskins.

BEANS—We quote as follows: Bayos, $5 50; Butter, $4 25@4 50, as to size; Lims, $3 12½; Pea and Small White, $3 05; Pink, $4 25; Red, $4.

FRUIT—Peaches are very plentiful, selling at irregular rates. Prices are expected to rule quite low all the week. We quote as follows for jobbing lots: Figs, $1 50@2 00 ₱ box; Grapes 75c@$1 25; Apples 60c@$2 00 ₱ box; Pears, 30 to 40c ₱ bskt, and 50@75c ₱ box; Bartlett do, $1@1 25 ₱ box and 50@75c ₱ bskt; Apricots, 40@75c ₱ box; Plums, 75c@$1 25 ₱ box; Raspberries, $15 ₱ chest; strawberries, $9@12; Blackberries, $7@8; Peaches, 35c@50c ₱ box and 90c@$1 ₱ bskt for common; Crawford do, 35c @ 60 ₱ basket, and 35 @ 60c per box; Lemons, $4@6 50 for Sicily; California Lemons, $1@1 50 ₱ box; Mexican Limes, $7 50@8 50 ₱ box; Tamarinds, 12@13c ₱ lb; Bananas, $2 50@$4 ₱ bunch; California Oranges, $1 25@2 ₱ box; Tahiti do, $3@3 25 ₱ thousand; Pineapples, $7@8 ₱ doz; Watermelons, $2 25@$3 50; Cantaloupes, $3 50@$4 ₱ case; Crab Apples, 75c ₱ box.

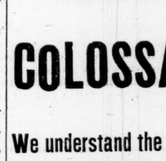
BOSTON MARKET.

Corner Fifth and Spring streets, Los Angeles.



THE UNDERSIGNED would respectfully announce to the public that he has just opened a commodious and elegantly fitted-up market at the above named location. I have built a large

ICE CHEST,

And hereafter all meats sold by me will be fresh, tender and juicy. Most people are aware of the fact that, when meat can be kept several days, unexposed to the air, in a cool place, it acquires a better flavor, as all the juices are retained. All who appreciate a clean and attractive market and desire a choice piece of Beef, Mutton, Lamb, Veal or Pork will do well to call. Choice Corn Beef always on hand. Remember that this is the only market in the city where you can get meat fresh and sweet from the ice chest.

A good stock of poultry, butter and eggs on hand at reasonable prices. Also all kinds of fruits and vegetables.

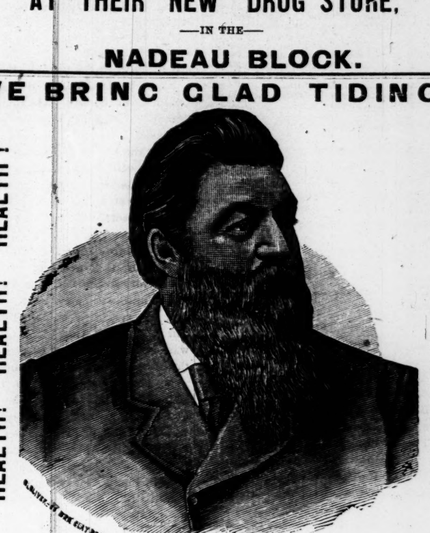
WE BRING GLAD TIDINGS

HEALTH! HEALTH! HEALTH! HEALTH! HEALTH! HEALTH!



HEALTH restored and life prolonged to suffering humanity, by the most wonderful curative agents ever discovered. I invite the sick, no matter what their diseases may be, to call and investigate for themselves before abandoning all hope, for it will cost you nothing. I give no encouragement unless there is a fair prospect of making a cure. I will endeavor to be candid in my opinion, and reasonable in my charges. I claim not to cure everybody, but to cure all that can be cured. I am formerly from New York city, and a graduate of one of the best medical colleges in the United States, and a most thorough Electrician, and have had many years successful practice in the treatment of both acute and chronic diseases. To remove all doubts and convince my patients that I claim nothing but what I can do, I refer to my diplomas and the numerous recommendations in my possession, which will always be ready for inspection at my office. I HAVE NO ONE CURE-ALL; nor do I make a hobby of any one mode of treatment, but use such remedies as the case may require. I find the cause of disease, prove it, locate it, and nature, assisted by medicinal remedies properly applied, will promote a cure without fail. TO THE LADIES. To the ladies I would say: You, whose sufferings have become intolerable, and who have suffered a thousand deaths from those diseases so common to your sex, give me a call, for I CAN CURE YOU WITHOUT FAIL, and make your lives once again worth living for. And all consultations will be strictly private and confidential. YOUNG MEN. To those young men who are suffering from year to year, and whose vital powers have become impaired by the use of mercury, quack nostrums, or using and broken down, and are suffering all the horrors from the effects of youthful follies; COME AND SEE ME. I have a sure preventative of premature decay and early death. To those who from indiscretions have contracted private diseases and are desirous of being cured, come without fail, for I can guarantee you a speedy cure. I treat with success all diseases of the Throat, Lungs, Heart, Stomach, Liver, Head, Nerves, Kidneys, Bladder, Womb, Blood, Affections of the Urinary Organs, Gravel, Piles, Scrofula, Rheumatism, Catarrh, Bronchitis, Dyspepsia, Diseases of the Eye and Ear, etc., etc. Consultation free at my office.

Why We Advertise.

FIRST—Because we want to let the people know that we have always been selling all goods at twenty-five per cent. less than any other house in the city.

SECOND—Because we warrant all goods as represented, and never resort to deception in order to make a sale.

THIRD—Because we have determined to make a still larger reduction in all

Spring and Summer Millinery Goods,

As we are determined to close them out before the middle of July.

FOURTH—Because we are determined to do a big business, even during the "dull" season, and have adopted the motto of "quick, cash sales and small profits."

FIFTH—Because we have the largest lot of sea-shell and other shade hats in the city, and the people must have them cheap before they go to the seashore.

SIXTH—Because we must make room for the earliest and most fashionable stock of millinery for the FALL TRADE ever brought to this city.

EVENTH—Because we carry the leading stock, of all sizes and colors, of warranted

ALL-SILK RIBBONS.

EIGHTH—Because we want the people to know that we do not keep cotton or mixed goods to palm off on unsuspecting customers as first class.

NINTH—Because we can offer, at prices that are below all competition, the best-assorted line of ladies', children's and infants'

FURNISHING GOODS

To be found in the city.

TENTH—Because we want all the ladies to call and see us and examine our goods and prices and compare with other houses in the same line of business.

Mistaken Idea.

The idea is advanced that the Grand Centra Hotel excels all others in Los Angeles. I should not be, because, where others charge 15 to $25 for board and room per week, we ask 7 to $10. Again, how could we excel others when we give board alone for $4 per week, when they charge $7? But here are facts which it behooves gentlemen and ladies to read: The Grand Central Hotel was built for the model hotel of Los Angeles. There is gas and water in each room; walnut furniture, spring beds and all modern conveniences. Our prices do not pay, but for sixty days meals will be 25 cents; board will be $4 per week; meal tickets will be sold at $4 50 for twenty-one. Rooms will be from 50 cents to $1 per night, and $3 to $6 per week. We invite custom, but it must be understood that only sober and respectable patrons will be entertained. jy8 1m GEO. O. ANOTHER MURDER.

Jose M. Corona Shot by a Drunken Half-breed Near Anaheim.

Learning that a murder had been committed in the Santa Ana Valley within the past two or three days, the TIMES telegraphed yesterday to Santa Ana for particulars, and last evening received the following reply from Justice of the Peace Freeman:

SANTA ANA, August 1.—Jose Maria Corona was shot and killed on the 29th at Upper Santa Ana, near Anaheim, by a drunken greaser named Reyes, who immediately skipped the country. No one saw the shooting, and it is impossible to gather much information.

FREEMAN.

COAL.

Discovery of a Fine Vein on the Laguna Rancho.

A statement that traces of coal had been discovered on the Laguna Rancho, in San Diego county, just across the border of this county, was published some time since in the TIMES, and for the past few weeks parties have been vigorously prospecting for this valuable combustible. According to information received in this city yesterday, the efforts of those engaged in the work have been rewarded, and 126 feet from the surface a fine vein six feet wide has been developed, which bids fair to be permanent and prove one of the most valuable coal mines in California. The mine is about seventy miles from Los Angeles, and but a short distance from the California Southern Railroad.

A Free Fight.

Yesterday, about noon, a fight occurred among the bricklayers and laborers engaged on a building on the south side of Spring street, between First and Second streets. At one time there were twelve or fourteen combatants, and a number of cuts and black eyes were given. According to report one party wanted to go on a strike and the other party refused, hence the war.

To all those who contemplate a visit to San Francisco during the next month, we would recommend them to not forget to visit Dr. Jordan's great museum of anatomy and science. It is located at No. 751 Market street, opposite Dupont street, and will repay you for the time spent in examining its wonders.

ARTESIA.

An Energetic People and a Thriving District.

Prosperous Farmers, Good Farms, Abundant Crops, and Fine Live Stock—Flowing Water From Artesian Wells.

A trip to Artesia, 20 miles south from Los Angeles, gave the TIMES correspondent an agreeable surprise, particularly as it was his first visit. Approaching the settlement, he was greeted with the sight of a schoolhouse that would be a credit to any eastern town, and the M. E. Church, which is quite a commodious building.

PRODUCTIVE LANDS.

In the vicinity are the tracts of David Gridley, John Dolland, Messrs. Hay, Frampton, McClure, Keir, Courtney and others, all in a high state of cultivation. Mr. McClure has 120 acres, while most of the others have 20-acre tracts, except Mr. Gridley, who is the largest land-owner in the District. The productive power of these lands is immense, most of them being in reach of water, either from the irrigating ditch or artesian wells. The country is well named Artesia, for artesian wells are flowing in every direction, and farmers are boring others to increase the water supply. It will be seen from this that in a short time the yield of this region will be immensely increased, and the happy possessors of land will receive great returns for their labor.

LARGE YIELDS.

Where there has been no irrigation, in places the crops are poor, but on moist land crops will be good, and where there has been irrigation, much better. Many fine fields of corn will yield from eighty to 100 bushels to the acre. Alfalfa can be mowed four times without water, and, under irrigation, six to eight times a year, the yield being about six tons per acre without water and eight to twelve tons with water.

HORSES, CATTLE AND HOGS.

Good judges say that this is a better country for raising horses than the famous Blue Grass region of Kentucky, which has produced so many fine horses. The colt is generally better than dam or sire, they mature more rapidly and there are other points which will make this section popular with horse breeders and will be turning out steeds that will rival the Eastern stock. Cattle thrive and the stock raisers are saving their heifer calves so that in a short time there will be plenty of horned stock in the country. Hogs are profitable and nearly all the settlers are turning their attention to industry. In the minor interests, chicken raising, butter and cheese making, there has been much success.

ARTESIAN WELLS.

Nearly every twenty acres has its artesian well, and the borer is at work all over the neighborhood, tapping the earth for more water. Most of them are good flowing wells and never dry up. Mr. John Keir has a first-rate well already, but he has reached a depth of 150 feet on a second one. As water is so easily reached there seems to be no danger of a water famine.

CHURCHES.

The colony is blessed with numerous church organizations. The Methodists own the church building, Mr. Clum being pastor, and the schoolhouse hall is used by the Christians and Baptists. On the road, close by, is the tent of the Second Adventists, who are busy in pointing souls to Heaven. Their preacher is a blind man, but he reads quite easily by means of books with raised letters. He has with him a choir of four singers, who entertain their audiences nightly. Down the road towards Norwalk is the little frame church of the Holiness Band, in which service is held every Sunday night.

THE SORGHUM MILL.

A year or two ago the settlers turned their attention to the raising of sugar cane, and a sorghum mill was bought by a stock company. The TIMES correspondent was assured that a yield of 275 gallons of syrup had been realized to the acre, but sugar making had not been a success, though it was hoped that success would crown their efforts next season.

CORN CANNERY WANTED.

It is estimated that California uses eastern-canned corn to the amount of $750,000 yearly, which sum goes to Portland, Me., Yarmouth, Mass., and other places, when it might just as well be kept here. This valley is well adapted to raising sugar corn and the yield is enormous. Over eighty bushels of this can be raised to the acre, being four times as much as the eastern yield, and on land that is not worth one quarter the price of eastern land, so the difference is immense. A corn cannery would pay well if in proper hands.

MISCELLANEOUS.

A number of new houses have been built in the past year, some of them quite pretentious in appearance. The rainfall of last year not being up to the usual standard, there have not been many new settlers, but should next winter bring an abundant supply of rain, no doubt the population will be much increased.

The advantages offered are its nearness to the railroad, the richness of its land, its delightful climate and its intelligent and energetic population. These are certainly great attractions and will not be overlooked when next years immigrants arrives.

We learn from the Anaheim Gazette that Fred Eaton, the engineer of the Los Angeles Water Company, asserts his ability to develope all the water flowing under the surface of the Santa Ana river at a cost of $50,000. Mr. Eaton thinks the water can never be brought to the surface by a pile dam, as the water will find plenty of outlets, it being impossible to drive piles so as to interpose a complete barrier to the flow of water.

A DOUBTFUL DISCOVERY.

Inquest Upon the Alleged Remains of George Lee.

The reported discovery of the remains of George Lee, a noted prospector, who, a few years ago, located what is now known as the Waterman mine, on the Mojave Desert, has naturally excited considerable interest in San Bernardino. The story of the discovery of the remains of some human being at Old Woman Springs seems straight enough, but the hypothesis that they are Lee's looks extremely improbable. It must be remembered that there is a bitter contest over the ownership of the mine between Lee's heirs and Waterman & Porter, the present owners of the mine, and in the past no expense has been spared by either side, and the case is still pending in the courts. If it can be proved that Lee was murdered on the desert near the famous mine, it will be a strong point in favor of the heirs, and give them an opportunity to establish their claim to one of the most valuable mines in California. The remains reached San Bernardino Monday evening in charge of the Coroner, and on Tuesday an inquest was held. The following description of the discovery and comments on the same is taken from the San Bernardino Index of Tuesday evening:

Coroner Rice, who left last Saturday for Old Woman's Springs, in company with Dr. Campbell and a number of assistants, to recover the alleged remains of George W. Lee from their unmarked grave on the Mohave desert, returned last evening, bringing with them a couple of cracker boxes containing all that was mortal of some poor human being. Notwithstanding its long burial there were pieces of flesh clinging to the skeleton form, which emitted a sickening odor and compelled the copious use of carbolic acid to deaden its effects. The remains were found in a little gulch about 200 yards from Old Woman's Springs, among a lot of wild grape vines. People had camped over the grave of the dead a number of times, the remains of their camp fires being plainly visible. The bones were exposed to public view at the courthouse by J.
